DISCRIMINATION BASED ON SEXUAL ORIENTATION

Sexual orientation is the ability of a person to feel an emotional, affective and sexual attraction, and to engage in intimate and sexual relationships with other people.

There are different sexual orientations.

The most common are bisexual, gay, heterosexual and lesbian.

Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex, including unequal treatment based on sexual orientation, identity or gender expression, and not "fulfilling" stereotyped gender roles.

If you perceive that you are a victim or witness of a sex discrimination situation, you can file a complaint at the Title IX Office. It is our responsibility to initiate the investigation process.
